MAY CALL IT OFF.President's Trip is Very Doubtful.Extra Session is Almost Sure to Interfere.President Wants Congress to Finish Its Work.Cuban Constitution Demands
Prompt Attention—Other
Pressing Business.BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(Exclusive
Dispatch.) As soon as the matter of an extra session of Congress is settled one way or another, the President will cause an announcement to be made of his trip to the Philippines. It looks much as if the trip will be called off, but things are not sufficiently settled today for the President formally to declare it off. He is receiving dozens of invitations from all parts of the coast, and while these are generally acknowledged, no invitations of any kind being accepted.EXTRA SESSION NECESSARY.
The President told everybody who called upon him today that he thought it would be necessary for him to call an extra session of Congress about the middle of March. The President was very emphatic about it. He told several Senators that Congress would have the Cuban constitutional question to handle if the Cubans finished it in time, and he has reports that their constitution will be ready in Washington within the next two weeks.

This news did not please the Senators, who practically every member of that body, are opposed to an extra session. The members of the House feel the same way about it, and they are all in agreement with the President that a very early adjournment will be called off and signally failed.

The only chance for escaping an extra session is that the Cuban convention will get into a wrangle and thus delay the adoption of a constitution until about the middle of April; if that happens there will be no extra session.

PRESIDENT'S PLAIN TALK.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The President has seldom been known to talk so freely with members of Congress and other public men on any question he had in contemplation, as he now talks with them concerning an extra session of Congress. He has apparently been revolving the subject in his own mind for the past month, and for that length of time has been talking it over largely with callers. Senators and Representatives have, however, thought until the last day or two that the extension of the session could be avoided. Even now there are many who refuse to believe that the call will be issued.

The only apparent object of the President is to have the Cuban question considered, and it is his desire to have Congress share the responsibility of deciding what steps shall be taken to refer the Cuban question to the details of the constitution. He has not yet indicated a time when he should expect Congress to meet, and that he is not expected to do until the Cuban constitutional convention shall have convened.

The prediction is general that an extra session is called, it will extend well into the summer. It is not believed that its deliberations could be confined to Cuba, but that the Philippine question, the Anti-Trust Bill and the sugar bill (for which the sugar is to be disposed of at the present session) would all come in for a share of attention. Many of the leading Republican members will use their utmost endeavor to avert the call.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(Exclusive
Dispatch.) Through all the prosperity of which the Englishman is getting his fill just now, there grows out grave and growing anxiety. Travellers and officials from India, China and South Africa all tell stories of failure and distress in the South Africa war is paralyzing Great Britain's interest all the world over.

An Englishman of some renown as a traveler and publicist described this week the scene after the raising of the siege of Peking of which he was a part. He said the allied troops marched through Sir Claude Macdonald remarked to those about him "Well, it is a Russian procession," and so it was.

Sir Claude had called for ten thousand British troops and had also urged the British government to suggest that ten thousand American troops be sent, so that Anglo-American prestige might not be prejudiced by the Chinese in the presence of Russian forces. British troops could not be sent because of the South African war, which is still the chief concern of Great Britain's interest all the world over.

KING'S BAD THROAT.

CAUSING SOME UNEASINESS.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
LONDON, Feb. 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) King Edward has not some of the qualities necessary in a great ruler, who must contend with strong opposition, but those who know him, if health and strength are granted him, he will prove more than a figure-head of the empire. This question of health and strength is, however, one which causes some uneasiness. He is troubled with a slight affection of the throat, which does not yield to medical treatment, and the nature of which has not been fully determined as yet. This was somewhat noticeable during the delivery of his speech last Thursday, when his voice, though strong and audible, was husky.

Curious Crowd Demolish Barriers to Nude Figures at a Fountain at Roma.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
ROMA, Feb. 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) For several months workmen were employed by the municipality in preparing a large fountain on the Piazza Venezia. Numerous figures of marine monsters sporting with nautilus, the work of a Sicilian sculptor. The figures had been placed, and everything was ready for starting the fountain, when workmen and mechanics, encouraged by the clerical press, protested on the grounds of public morality, declaring "these figures are excessively nude."

The bath water at the capital, and the bath curiosities became cited. The tall boards surrounding the fountain, one regarded with indifference, were daily surrounded by an inquisitive throng, which tried to peer into the water. The bath was now open, and the ministry will not end in by other means than the unconditional surrender of the Boers, nor would the present temper of the English people tolerate any other ending.

Yet no lacking are British ministers, and even in ordinary foresight, resolution and business organization, that Lord Kitchener must for months be without the reinforcements of mounted men for which he urgently prayed seven weeks ago, and without which Dewet and Botha, with their mobile commandos, have pretty much their own way.

SHARP ENGAGEMENT.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Gen. Kitchener, telegraphing from De Aar, Cape Colony, under today's date, says:

"Dewet's force crossed the railway at Bortman's siding, north of here, before daylight Feb. 15, closely followed by Pienaar, Cradock and armoured trains. The Boers were secretly instructed by the mayor to turn the water on the fountain, and the excitement subsided.

Another incident that happened at Bologna shows the difficulty of clerical purists agreeing with the Italian popular. The names of Bologna, to whom the reputation of being among the most beautiful in the city, recently discovered that a band of velvet with a black-lace fringe was becoming more and more than hats and shawls.

MINERS BLOWN INTO SHREDS.

Powder-house Explodes at Commerce Camp.

Town Strewn With Bits of Flesh and Bone.

Burglar Shot Dead—Cobre-Grande Sui—Fatal Quarrel Over a Girl.

IDE DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) At Commerce, a mining camp in Graham county, a powder magazine exploded at noon today, killing all the miners who were at the magazine. Details of the accident were not given in a dispatch received from Los Angeles this morning by J. W. Twomey, manager of the Boston Company, which is operating the camp. A courier had gone to the telegraph station from the mine and sent the message, in which he said the magazine had blown up and all the miners on the shift had been killed.

Twomey said tonight there were seven miners employed on the day shift all morning, and it was their habit to go to the powder-house at noon to secure powder for the afternoon shooting in the mine. He thinks some one dropped a cigarette, causing the explosion.

Local reports say the magazine was blown a hundred feet into the air and human bodies torn to shreds, only a deep hole in the ground marking the place where the magazine stood. Great excitement prevails in the camp. The concussion ruined some of the boxes and cases, and boxes containing Cimarron Indian settlement, hoping to find Fain there, as his wife is a Cimarron, and it is believed that he made for the settlement, believing the Indians would protect him. Fain will fight, and the Kings are all known in the Northwest, and the Indians are in the pursuit of him. Alexander was afraid to appear in Justice Court and face the Kings, so he waived examination, and is secure behind the walls of the Territorial penitentiary at Yuma.

The wives and children of the miners were frantic to recognize the remains of the miners, but it was impossible, as there was no place large enough in the scattered mass of debris and human bones to identify them. Employed on the night shift were sleeping and the explosion threw them from their beds. The men killed were old-timers, but their names could not be learned tonight.

BURGLAR SHOT DEAD.

RACE FEELING AT JEROME.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.J.
JEROME (Ariz.) Feb. 18.—There is some excitement here between Italians and Americans tonight caused by the killing of John Duka, an Italian miner employed in the Chris Hauser mine near Jerome, by John Ward of this place.

During the past month a burglar has entered dwellings in all parts of Jerome, the action of the man being very much the same in all instances. The latest victim of the man's hand has been taken at any time, combined with the man's habit of entering the bedrooms of young women, pointed to the work of one person.

The burglar's house was visited twice before the intruder was finally caught by Ward, who had been watching his place. The man was found by Ward as he crossed in front of the building and entered the main hall of the house. An attempt was made to pry him in the door to the top-story room of Ward, who was on guard with a loaded shotgun, which he cocked ready to fire. The click of the weapon caused the burglar to run, but he intruded, for he turned and made his way rapidly from the building, and as he left the steps Ward fired through a window.

The full contents of the gun struck Duka back of the left ear, death following instantly. Ward refused to give his name, but he told the officers arrived, when it was found that he wore a mask, and was armed with an open knife.

A court hearing was held today, and the above statement testified to by witnesses. The verdict of the jury exonerated Ward, and went further as follows: "The man was a dangerous character from Jerome."

John Duka was about 35 years old, born within the Chloride, Ariz., and a well-known miner in the Telluride, Colo., district.

COBRE-GRANDE MUDDLE.

SUIT OPENS A NEW PHASE.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-TIMES.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Another phase of the Cobre-Grande muddle was opened up today in a suit filed by W. C. Greene against Axel Hallenberg, J. H. Costello, Shirley E. Gage, and the Phoenix Mutual Bank. From the allegations it was apparent that the Colorado owner of 40,000 shares of Cobre-Grande stock had not kept an agreement made with Greene a couple of months ago, when the latter purchased Costello's holdings in a block of 115,000 shares, held by Gage, and that Costello acted in a prepayment of his 115,000 shares on the agreed price of $2.50 and stipulated to dismiss certain suits pending in New York City. This he failed to do.

Now a second payment of $1 a share is due from Costello, and the suit complicated by three suits filed by Hallenberg, alleging conspiracy in the late sale. So Greene, with a recitation of these features, proffered the second payment in court, by showing a deposit of $163,150 to Mr. Stewart, who paid for an injunction restraining defendant from taking any action until a decision had been reached on the Hallenberg case and till Costello had complied with the terms of his agreement. Chief Justice Street granted a temporary injunction, as prayed. The matter is an amicable one between Greene and Gage.

FORESTS AND FLOODS.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) On motion of Fowler of Maricopa, who is the chairman of the Maricopa Water Storage Committee, the Assembly today adopted a memorial to Congress praying that the work of building the reservoirs necessary to store the floods in the streams of the arid regions be done directly by the national government, under existing statutes. Upon Congress, it is urged, the committee appreciates the responsibility of the government to see that the forest should be made for the preservation of the forests and for the reforestation of the denuded areas as natural storage reservoirs and for the construction by the national government, as part of its policy of internal improvement, of storage reservoirs to save waters that now run to waste.

In the Assembly was introduced a bill that would drive about all the insurance companies from the Territory.

It provides that all companies doing business within the state shall have a paid-up capital of $200,000, and a deposit of $100,000 with the Territorial Treasurer as security for payment of claims for losses.

FIGHT FIRE WITH FLOOD.

Sixty-one Entombed Men Given Up as Dead.

Flames Still Continue to Burn Fiercely.

Gambler Cuts an Opponent's Throat—Anti-Saloon Crusade—Baby Roasted.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—F.M.I.
VANCOUVER (B.C.) Feb. 16.—At No. 5 shaft of the Cumberland mine, where over three score miners are entombed in the earth, a special fire-fighters' fire went up. A special dispatch from Union, B.C., late this afternoon states that No. 5 shaft is closed. Fire-hose streams are pouring water into No. 5 gutter, constructed to carry the water of an eight-inch main into the mine. All the unfortunate miners are still entombed. Pending the result of the flooding no further action can be taken.

All hope has long since been given up that any men in shaft No. 5 still are alive. The fire control is now done. No man would approach within 100 feet of the place where the explosion occurred at the bottom of the shaft.

The cause of the explosion is still unknown, or at least unannounced. The names of the white miners who are in shaft No. 5, with one exception, have not been given out.

W. D. WALKER, leaves a widow and daughter.

His sons George and William were killed with him.

JOHN WHITE, leaves a widow and four children.

THOMAS LLOYD, unmarried.

DUNCAN MONROE, leaves a widow and large family.

W. SNEDDON, leaves a widow and large family.

PETER HARDYSON, leaves a widow and two children.

C. BONO, single.

R. FLECK, married.

L. WOODWARD, single.

ANDREW SMITH, single.

D. M. DAVID, single.

A. M. AFFO, single.

W. H. COOPER, single.

JIM CHISETTO, single.

JOSEPH ALLISON, single.

GEORGE TURNBULL, timberman, leaves a widow and two children.

Now James Dunsmuir, Premier of British Columbia and president and principal owner in the Union Colliery Company, went over to the mine in his own car. This afternoon immediately upon his arrival from the East by the overland train, Dunsmuir was received by the superintendent of the mines at Union. The report reduces the number of miners counted dead to 57, and counts all the miners and veinous information regarding the location of the missing shift, inasmuch as it states that Chinese are the chief culprits. The report adds: "The report is dated today, and says:

"After consultation I decided today to get the air from No. 5 shaft using No. 4 shaft."

We find that about 3:45 o'clock this morning, when she exploded again, not heavily. Then all said it would be better to flood No. 5 shaft, so that the water would rise and afterward try to work through from the fire.

All hope of any living being given up now, except her. Now we have who came up had any hope either. As near as I can get at the number of men, there were twenty whites, nine Japanese, and thirteen Chinese below. I cannot tell how long it will take to fill the shaft to the roof at the bottom. No shafts work are all gone. Both shafts are covered until the water gets up. There appears to be considerable fire in No. 6. [Signed] F. D. LITTLE."

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch) After leaning coolly over a gambling table and cutting Daniel Morris through with a pocket-knife, Alonzo Conrado hit him over to surrender voluntarily to the Seattle police this afternoon. Morris's wound is dangerous, but he may recover. The trouble took place at Bothell, King county, early this morning. Conrado, who was born in Bothell, says the boy he whipped out a knife, and leaning over the table slashed his opponent from ear to ear. Before the started several officers realized what was up. Conrado died.

Conrado came to Seattle and walked into police headquarters. He said: "I cut a man's throat at Bothell." The police communicated with the sheriff, who subsequently learned that Conrado's statement was correct. W. H. Bales, born of Bothell says the wound was a terrible one, and that the manner in which it was perpetrated was extremely cold-blooded. Officers have been sent to investigate. Conroy is locked up.

DR. HOWARD SUCCUMPS TO ROSS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)—

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 16.—"The reported opposition to Edward T. Ross as professor of economics at the University of Nebraska by certain members of the board of regents is of no significance," said Dr. George E. Howard this evening, when the matter was called to his attention. Dr. Howard is inspired by the opposition to Dr. Ross, especially as he was the subject of severe criticism by some of the Lincoln Republican newspapers at the time he was called by Acting Chancellor Andrews, whose action in appointing Ross was courageous and commendable.

"But four out of the six regents were present at the meeting, and I am certain the other members are in favor of Dr. Ross's incumbency. My first information of opposition to Dr. Ross came in the press reports this morning. I wish to add, too, that Ross was not appointed to my position, nor recommended, but I do not know what influence my attitude or sympathy for him may have had in determining the appointment.

"So far as I know the administration of affairs of the University of Nebraska has been free from political influences up to date. There may be one exception, that of Prof. Wolfe, who was dismissed about three years ago. It is said, for his pro-Bryan complexion."

Howard is a Nebraska man and was for many years connected with the State University as a teacher of history.

SAD END OF W. L. GILL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)—

SAN JOSE, Feb. 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch) L. W. Gill, 40, for ten years has been one of the leading attorneys of this city, and for a quarter of a century one of the foremost advocates in this State, died today at Agnews asylum. The immediate cause of his death was pulmonary heart-disease, although he had been a green man physically for several years.

Two years ago he was committed to Agnews because of his weak mental condition, and about six months ago so far improved that he was released.

He became associated with Moore, Lone, Delmas and Leib, and made his mark as a bright court lawyer. Upon the dissolution of the firm, he joined with D. M. Deimas and remained with him until Deimas removed to San Francisco. In the famous Barron will case he appeared as one of the principal attorneys. His law library is said to be the largest and choicest in the State.

ANTI-SALOON CRUSADE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)—

SAN JOSE, Feb. 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch) An anti-saloon crusade is to be inaugurated here. Initiatory steps have already been taken, and it is expected the movement will be well under way next week. The leaders are Mrs. Mathews, and twenty ladies have enrolled themselves under her banner. The method of joint-smashing will be somewhat milder than that employed by the N.A.S.A.

It is intended to visit the different saloons in San José and to hold meetings, in which prayer, pleading and songs will be used in an effort to convert the saloon-keepers and their patrons. The ladies having the matter in hand are members of the First Methodist church. The leaders are very confident success will crown their efforts, and that some of the saloons will voluntarily close their doors as a result of the crusaders' entreaties and prayers.

PLUNGE OF A TRAIN.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—F.M.I.)

PORTLAND (Ore.) Feb. 16.—A special to the Evening Telegram from The Dalles, Or., says that early this morning an engine and caboose on the Oregon & Navigation Railroad plunged twenty feet down a embankment eleven miles west of The Dalles. The earth had been soaped by a heavy rain, and the track gave way.

The whole train crew was lost in the mud, and the engine, which was being pulled by a team of horses, was badly injured, and Sam Hendon and — Meyer, brakeman, were severely injured.

ENDEAVORERS' BREEZY TALK.

"Ax Factory Under His Waistcoat."Non-Voting Christian Patriot Scored.County Convention Adjourns to Meet at Pasadena—New Men at the Helm.

Moyal colors hung at the portals of the First English Lutheran Church yesterday, denoting that the County Endeavor Union was in session. The interior decorations were elaborate and beautiful. At the groins of the arch, over the altar, hung a large arrangement of roses, lilies, palms and ferns. The taste displayed in the decorations attracted much attention.

The early service, at 8 o'clock, was conducted by Leonard Merrill, and at 9 o'clock the regular annual business of the session was opened with an invocation by Rev. Herbert J. Weaver, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church. The routine business disposed of, Rev. John Habbick of Redondo addressed the convention upon "Our Christian Endeavor Course."

AN AX FACTORY IN HIM.
The address of Mr. Habbick was an emotional effort, urging the observance of the covenant from love for the work, rather than from a sense of duty. "I shall never forget the words of the speaker, 'the first I testified for Jesus, I thought there was an ax factory inside of me. And suppose the tears do come down over the dams of my eyes? In the rain that rains fertility on the soil?'

Mr. Habbick deeply moved his audience by his earnest, personal appeal.

TWO KINDS OF PATRIOTS.

Rev. P. M. Dowling of Pasadena took his subject, "The Christian Patriot," "I am a patriot, and that a patriot must be a Christian, are you at the same time ready to accept the demand that a Christian must be a patriot?" asked Rev. Dowling.

"I am a patriot, and that a Christian voter could settle the matter in just one campaign, if he would but do it."

"The vote of the 'dangerous' classes is not as much to be desired, as the vote of the Christian citizens, which is not cast. The ward 'heeler,' the 'push,' the corruptor, the speculator, and radically upon the subject of temperance and Christian citizenship. He declared that the Christian voter could settle the matter in just one campaign, if he would but do it."

"A St. Louis minister recently announced that he had been held up on Tuesday night and the Democratic primary will be held next Wednesday night, and the Democratic primary on Thursday night. It is the duty of every Christian voter to support one of his choice and see that only good men are chosen." I presented this question at a meeting of my ministerial friends, and every man present, every one of them declared he did right."

"The true Christian patriot denies that 'the voice of the people is the voice of God.' He presses the will of God." [Applause.]

STARTLING FIGURES.

Rev. William H. Day, assistant pastor of the First Congregational Church, at the opening of his talk on the topic, "To Each One His Work," made a startling statement.

"We suppose, suppose, 20,000 Christians in Los Angeles, and only about 6000 of them are doing something. That means the 24,000 of them are doing nothing. This is not as it is now, or we would not have the 24,000 unemployed Christians. Now, it is because of this condition that I am to talk to you today."

Mr. Day's talk was pointed on all sides.

Any expense is cheap if we can instill brotherhood and friendliness, twist people. But if our effort stopped here it would still be a failure. It is a failure to do nothing.

"Men must know something about their fellow-men in order to love them. The greatness of service must be the greatness of love."

"We are after the right kind of work as well as some sort of work. Our fault is that we are apt to do things hasty, and at the same time we are apt to do things to study to do our work well."

STARTERS BUT NOT FINISHERS.

"I am sure that the things we need to do are so commonly neglected," said Dr. Hugh K. Walker, "that I could cover much more than my allotted hour."

Dr. Walker was talking on "Neglected Needs." "They are all about us," he said.

"We are great starters, but we are poor finishers. This is characteristic of youth. We have a great many excuses for not doing what we know we ought to do."

"Some of us are getting a little frosty around the sides, and top, but we want to be a 'sure-enough' young people."

"I would rather give up any organization—I make no exception—I would rather give up any organization in my church than the Junior Society of Christian Endeavor."

HE COULDN'T ESCAPE.

"There are some people you can't get away from," said Rev. A. C. Smith, "I escaped from the house last night, but was caught over the door and taken to the children, who are conspicuous for their absence, so you can just imagine yourselves children for like this."

State Superintendent Alexander of the intermediate department, made an amateur talk, urging a more general interest in the work among the boys and girls.

THAT SUFFRAGE SPOOK.

"I hope the time may soon come," said Dr. Walker while conducting the "question-box" period, "when good women as well as good men will go to the polls to vote, and the world will be better off. Even our women and I say it with shame—even our women are becoming as much addicted to the game as men."

Paul C. Brown addressed the convention on the "Endeavor Business Meeting."

NEW CREW AT THE HELM.

GOVERNOR ATKINSON

Of National Fame, Pronounces Pe-ru-na an Excellent Catarrh Remedy.

MORE EVIDENCE THAT EVERY HOME NEEDS THIS REMEDY.

Half the Nation Suffers from Catarrh.

GOVERNOR G. W. ATKINSON, OF WEST VIRGINIA.

Charleson, W. Va., March 9, 1898.
The Perruna Medicina Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen—"I can recommend your preparation, Perruna, as a tonic. Its reputation as a cure for catarrh is excellent, it having been used by a number of people known to me with the very best results."—G. W. Atkinson.

FULLY Sixty per cent. of the people of the United States are suffering from catarrh in some degree or phase. There is scarcely a home in the land either east, west, or some other altitude directly dependent upon catarrh. Catarrh rapidly becomes a national scourge. Its existence in the system complicates and intensifies all disease, a person may happen to have. With this system.

Perruna is an internal systematic remedy reaching the disease at its fountain-head. It cures catarrh of the head, lung, stomach, liver, kidneys, or catarrh of any other organ of the body.

Mr. F. A. Dixen, of 810 East Tenth street, Kansas City, Mo., editor of the Missouri department of the "Spring of Myrtle," in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, says:

"Permit me to express my appreciation of the benefits that I have derived from using Perruna in my practice."

"Speaking of limited means, I have had to be careful not to spend any money than was necessary on doctor bills. Some two years ago I began using Perruna in my family as a family doctor, and I have been highly pleased with the results.

"With has used it for catarrh and experienced great success. My little girl has been sick a number of times, and when we used your medicine, it proved a great success.

I have used it several times and consider it a very valuable medicine.

"Speaking from personal observation, I consider it a good investment to keep it in my home, and believe every man who desires to relieve suffering, and at the same time make himself a fortune should investigate the real merits of your Perruna.

Mr. F. A. Dixen, of 810 East Tenth street, Kansas City, Mo., editor of the Missouri department of the "Spring of Myrtle," in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, says:

"Last June I had a severe attack of nasal catarrh which was very annoying and debilitated my system. I wrote your advertisement. I wrote you for advice. I used Perruna continually for three months. November, when the symptoms disappeared entirely."

J. Louis Pfau, Jr., Hon. James Lavin, Surveyor General of Louisiana, says:

"I have used Perruna for a short time and am charmed with its effects. As being all you represent and wish every man who is suffering with catarrh could find its great value."—James Lewis.

Wherever the catarrh is, there is sure to be a waste of mucus. The mucus is as precious as blood. It is blood, in fact, and the chief cause of all disease. The cor-puses removed. To stop this waste, you must stop this catarrh. A course of treatment with Perruna never fails to do this.

H. W. E. Schneider, proprietor of the Baltic Hotel, of Washington, D. C., speaks of Perruna as follows: "I desire to say that I have found Perruna a most wonderful remedy. I have only used one bottle and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I cannot find words to express my gratification for the results obtained."

Miss Anna Carteron, Clayton, Ill., says:

"Your Perruna did me so much good. I believe I should have been dead by this time had I not used it. I am feeling well now. I have had a severe attack of catarrh for several months. I can cheerfully recommend Perruna to my friends."

Everywhere the people, especially the women, are praising Perruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal diseases.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Perruna, write at once to Mr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will please to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Perruna cures catarrh wherever located.

William H. Day, secretary, Jessie O'Donnell, corresponding secretary, J. Ira Moyse, treasurer, Miss Lydia Willett, junior superintendent, Miss Mary A. Smith, midwinter superintendent, Miss A. C. Smith, Pasadena was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The convention closed with a consecration service, led by Leonard Merrill.

EDWARD GERMAN Wine Co., Los Angeles

EARL DISCLOSES THE WHOLE DEAL.

Has Sold His Interests in Continental Fruit Express and Earl Fruit Company to A. Ogden Armour.

E. T. EARL, president of the Continental Fruit Express and of the Earl Fruit Company of this city, has spoken.

He told the big story of the deals that have been going on for a transfer of his vast business interests to a Times reporter yesterday.

Previously he had kept everything back, but it was with much reluctance that he consented to unbosom himself yesterday.

In brief, Mr. Earl is to retire on his laurels as the king of California fruit shippers. He is going to abdicate. He said:

"I repeat I have not sold my interests in the Continental Fruit Express or to the Fruit Growers' Express or the Armour Car Lines, and I repeat that the interests of the Earl Fruit Company have not been sold to Porter Bros."

"In view of what has been said, I will say that I have entered into an arrangement with Charles E. Glemann, who buys the Continental Fruit Express and the Earl Fruit Company, and my stock in other companies. In other words, this gentleman buys my car-line business and my fruit-shipping business, and succeeds to my business as heretofore conducted. There is no separation or sale or ownership of the fruit business from the car-line business."

"Yes, I have noticed the published statement of Mr. Robbins, that Armour & Co. have bought the C.F.X. Co., etc. Evidently he desires to convey the impression that the car-line interests are being sold to him, but the fruit-shipping business of the Earl Fruit Company, fearing that there might be some public criticism upon him, has come out of the transaction of the two interests, although they ought to be none. The purchaser is not connected with Porter Bros., but Mr. Glemann, a man of large means, who he is, and he may feel disposed to give his name to the public, and also a copy of the agreement itself."

"The Earl is a very gentleman of integrity, proven ability, and great wealth. He enters into these legalities enterprises with enthusiasm, and they will expand, and develop the business he is now acquiring."

"Yes, I notice that the press represents Mr. Robbins as saying that my car-line interests have been sold to me from my fruit-shipping interests. This is probably an error. I would be surprised to learn that Mr. Robbins has made any statement to that effect."

A BABY'S LEGAL FIGHT.

Adventure of a Little Human Mistake in Los Angeles.

In behalf of a little human mistake, aged 15 months, who came three thousand miles looking for a father and a home, lawsuits are now threatened.

Several wild guesses have been made in the previous history of this case by newspapermen whose specialty is guessing wrong, but the true story is here made public for the first time. I can only say that under the agreement the buyer takes over both the car-line and the fruit-shipping interests.

"No, I do not care to state the terms of the agreement or my reasons for retiring from active business. At some time, if the press should desire, I may do so."

While he sat down, Mr. Earl reluctantly refused to give the name of the fact, which he can only say under the agreement the buyer takes over both the car-line and the fruit-shipping interests.

"No, I do not care to state the terms of the agreement or my reasons for retiring from active business. At some time, if the press should desire, I may do so."

The statements of these gentlemen point directly to young A. Ogden Armour as the buyer of the Earl business interests.

It is natural, took a long time to reach these properties, and the car-line shipping business, box factories, and other properties.

Mr. Valentine began the fruit-shipping business in Sacramento Valley twenty-five years ago. To him more than any other man, the orange growth of Southern California owes its development of the combination refrigerator cars, which carry their fruit safely to market. He retires at about the ripe old age of 75.

The guess is that some well-informed business men are found on fact, and Mr. Earl surrenders the most absorbing interest in the car-line business built up, with at least $1,000,000 to the good, he is a philosopher as well as a successful man of business.

Mr. Earl from the business, a prominent man of this city said yesterday:

"The Earl is a very gentleman of integrity, proven ability, and great wealth. He enters into these legali-

IN SOME CASES

A Single Package of the Pyramid Pile Cure Sufficient to Cure.

This may seem a broad statement when you remember that dial cases are so obstinate to really cure as piles; some physicians going so far as to say that a painful surgical operation is the only permanent cure, but the many and remarkable cures made by the Pyramid Pile Cure in the past year, hide the point that medical operations are not always necessary, and that it is by far the safest and most reliable remedy yet discovered for this common and often dangerous trouble.

The herbines acids and healing oils contained in the Pyramid Pile Cure cause the blood vessels to contract to a natural condition and the little tumors are absorbed and the cure is made without pain, inconvenience or detention from business.

Dr. Williams, a prominent official surgeon says: "It is the duty of every surgeon to avoid an operation if possible to cure in any other way, and after many trials with the Pyramid Pile Cure purchased from a local druggist, he says, fully expected the results would return to normal happy to say for the past year and a half have been entirely free from the disease and I cannot speak too warmly in favor of the Pyramid Pile Cure."

A bill clerk in one of the large wholesale houses of St. Louis says:

"My customer, an oil dealer, is so confused and astounded that it finally brought on an aggravated attack of rectal trouble, which my physician diagnosed as itching and protruding piles he was cured by a single 50-cent package of the Pyramid Pile Cure purchased from a local druggist, he says, fully expected the results would return to normal happy to say for the past year and a half have been entirely free from the disease and I cannot speak too warmly in favor of the Pyramid Pile Cure."

Hundreds of pile sufferers, who had almost decided to undergo the pain and danger of an operation, have been converted to find that the Pyramid Pile Cure which can be purchased at any drug store, is far safer, better, and more effective than an operation could possibly be."

As the girl refused to talk, it was assumed that she was the wronged mother of the child. Presently the child vanished, and she declined to tell what had become of it.

The baby is now at an orphanage home at Twenty-fifth and Stanford avenue. The name of the girl care-taker is Minnie Twambley, and she is not the mother of the child. The mother is a girl whose home is in Denver, not Des Moines, whence the child came here.

Shockley formerly lived in Des Moines, where his brother is a prominent business man. He had been in the habit of going back on business to his old home from here, and on one of the trips he met the young girl who became the mother of the child. When he saw the child later, he determined to do whatever he could for it.

He sent the infant back to Des Moines and put it in the care of an old Scotch woman named Anna Corfkin. It remained under the general supervision of Dr. Rawson, a well-known physician of Des Moines.

Shortly before his death Shockley decided to send for the child, so that it could be near him. He made arrangements to have it secretly taken care of in this city.

Miss Twambley was hired by Dr. Rawson to bring the child out here. She was told that she would be met at the depot by Mr. McFadden, the father of the child. While the baby was en route Shockley was taken ill, and asked a real estate agent named Sampson, the property under the name of the United Oil Company, to get his father down.

Seeing his father's plight, Dr. A. C. Thorpe ran to the machine and attempted to stop the lever, but in his efforts to keep from falling, the older Thorpe still clung to the lever but as he did so, the machine fell and fell out and was slightly bruised. His son managed to reverse the starting lever as the machine reached the middle of the street.

In attempting to step from the machine the old gentleman fell. To save himself from falling he turned on the side, but his hands slipped and caught the lever used to start the machine. He accidentally pulled the lever the wrong way and the locomotive started.

With a strong animal instinct the locomotive headed directly across the street toward the shed where it is stable, but unfortunately carried the momentum, the locomotive hit the sidewalk and tried to climb a tree. It was not successful, but in the attempt it fell and the front end of the front was mashed into kindling and every pin in it was jarred out of position.

Dr. Thorpe was taken to the hospital and died soon after.
